“

LaMunt deeply takes the female body into account. We insist on creating the best fit and shape for women to comfortably enjoy all their activities in the mountains. We want to make sure women feel good and at ease while being active. That's why we've developed Smart Fit Solutions with thoughtful details. Our products are versatile, and we make sure there are some magic moments to discover. We like to encourage women to discover the inspiring mountains as a place for their me-time in whatever way suits them best.

Ruth Oberrauch, Brand Manager

THE NEW WOMEN IN THE MOUNTAINS

Mountain me-time

Historically outdoor used to be a male-dominated adventure scene. Mountain sports used to be perceived as men’s activities, with little room for women. With little room for their set of values and attitudes. This was the past. The present and the future make way for the female perspective of the mountains. There are “new” modern women out there who are living the mountains in their own unique way. Their point is: mountains are not only a place to be conquered. Mountains are a space for exploration and inspiration as well. A space, in which women can explore what’s around and inside them. The journey, the feeling, and the experience are what counts. Women seek conscious quality time for themselves. That’s what we at LaMunt call “mountain me-time”.

These women do not identify anymore with the old stereotypes (like “wow, you really went alone”). Women want to be seen simply as the people they are: Confident to face the mountains with poise and determination. Capable as they handle many other things in their daily lives. But also, with the desire to express their femininity and personality. LaMunt exists for this new generation of women. We want to give these women more space and make them more visible. We offer them product solutions to their needs, where there is no need to make a compromise between functionality aesthetics. We aim to support women’s strengths and activeness while allowing them to express their femininity at the same time.

We want to inspire women to live exciting outdoor adventures. We believe every woman with her own skills can (and should) have extraordinary experiences in the mountains. LaMunt considers and addresses women differently. We aim to provide them with the most suitable apparel to enjoy the mountains.

Antje Pfahl, Marketing Manager

Our design principles

LaMunt was developed based on 4 design principles that express at its best the brand and product soul: Ali Shape, Smart Fit Solutions, Versatility and Magic Moments. Every product we make is built upon these principles and is realized in a set of earthy colours, different shades of blue and yellow that ends up in brown. Colours are paired by nuance and not by contrast in order to create different outfits and looks, from an easy and plane one to a strong and more colourful one. Colours are messages, and the message we want to give is: Be serene, enjoy your mountain me-time.

Ali Shape

Our Ali shape design concept, which translated from Italian means 'wings' and expresses the lightness and curves we follow in this collection. We were inspired by nature; it is about ventilated areas and curves in our design that are gentle to the feminine body and protect the areas where needed most.

Smart Fit Solutions

A uniquely from LaMunt developed concept of solutions which let the individual users personalize the fit of a product to your individual body shape. Smart Fit Solutions also allow you to adjust the length of a sleeve or to adapt the shape of a jacket.

Versatility

The principle of versatility means for LaMunt that our designs include elements that can be moved, taken off, repurposed, recombined and changed. The sleeves of a jacket can be taken off to turn the jacket into a vest. A product can be turned around to be worn in two different color styles.

Magic Moments

Magic moments are little details that you discover after a while, small surprises that give a special twist to the experience with the product. Like an illustration inside your jacket, a secret pocket, a special pattern or an inspirational quote that makes you smile.

CARES

“Care” is a key element in our product development and a part of LaMunt’s DNA from the very first day. It’s not only a matter of long-term goals; it is about conscious decisions we take on an everyday level.

This starts with our partnerships: our products are produced in audited factories that are committed to fair working conditions and social standards. LaMunt is a member of the NGO Fair Wear Foundation, an expert organization in this field, that promotes fair working conditions in the textile industry.

As a brand, we believe every decision we make matters. While bringing our first collection to life it was obvious that we would select materials carefully and use certified fabrics or test them regarding our strict Oberalp Chemical Policy, to ban harmful chemicals from our products. As a consequence, we developed our collection PFC-free from the very beginning. In addition, we use recycled and natural materials striving to lessen our impact.

Our commitment:

BEING MINDFUL
Fair, safe and using selected materials

.....

CREATING
SUSTAINABLE PRODUCTS

The most relevant elements we work on next to our fundaments:

Natural Materials

Recycled Materials

PFC-free DWR

FUNDAMENT OF
SUSTAINABLE PRODUCTS

The basis we did focus on from the very beginning:

Fair Working Conditions

Chemical Management

To make sure our clients can make responsible and informed decisions, we apply a transparent sustainability communication. If you would like to learn more, have a look on page 46. This overview gives you an even better understanding of our efforts on a product level.

RECYCLED CASHMERE

We use recycled cashmere to fill our insulation jackets for technical and sustainability performance. This high-quality material is the perfect combination for our desire to use natural and recycled materials that ensure thermal comfort and breathability. A new exclusive, upcycled insulation made through a process that is less impactful in terms of energy consumption, waste production, and water usage. While using one of the most valuable natural materials in fashion, we contribute to reducing our environmental impact. By creating mountain sports clothing from recycled cashmere, we're redefining luxury and post-industrial waste, and showing that a different system is possible.

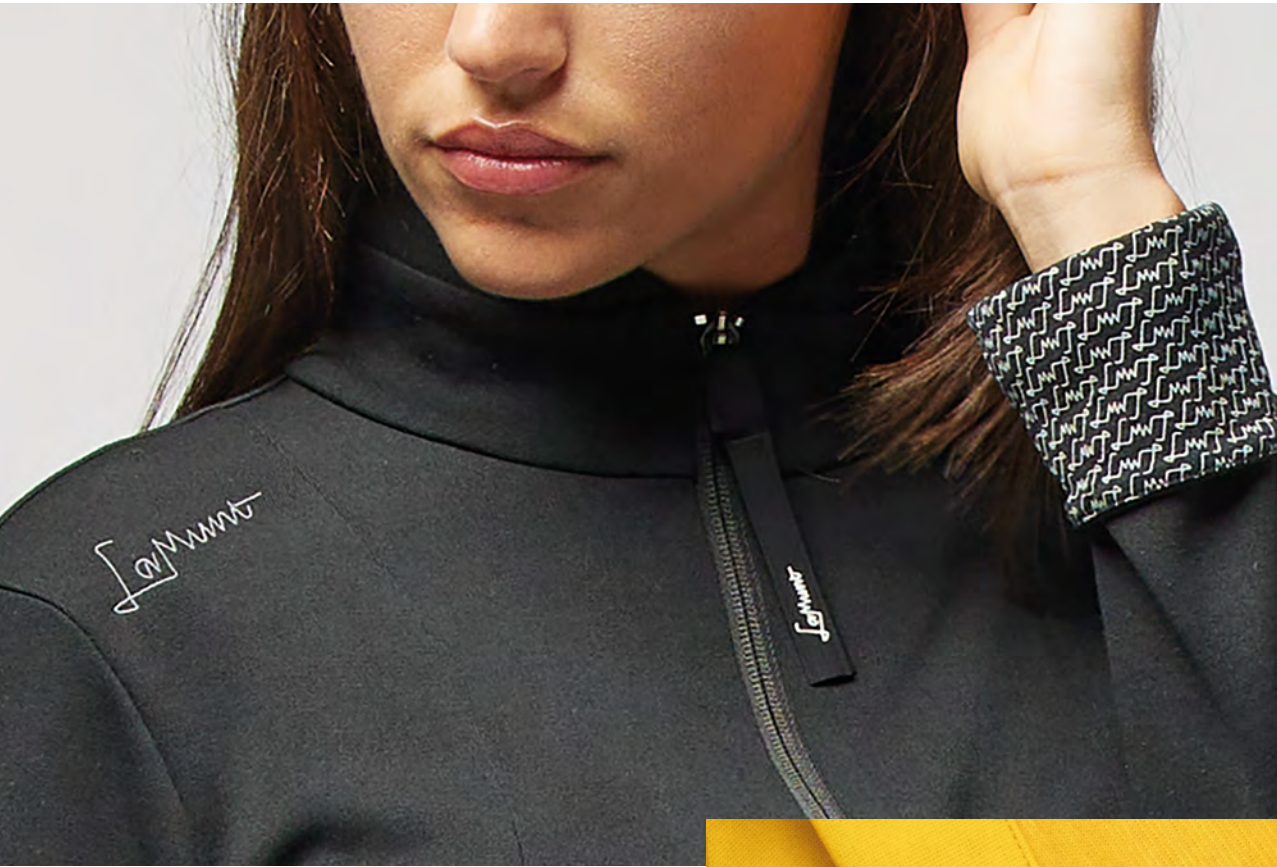

ME-SCUBA

We call MeScuba the performance fabric that we use for thermal layers and mid-layers. This fabric is realized out of 82% recycled polyester, it is very soft and able to maintain the body temperature thanks to its inner tube with a tridimensional structure. This composition creates natural thermoregulation and keeps you warm. Our MeScuba is versatile and dynamic. It is also very elastic and soft to the touch. Its special structure gives freedom of movement and optimal comfort during outdoor sports activities.

WOOL DOUBLE FACE KNIT

Our thermal garments and second layers are made with a double-faced Italian fabric that combines merino wool and recycled polyester. The merino wool fibers on the inner side of the fabric – and in direct contact with skin – create natural thermoregulation, these are bonded with a synthetic layer out of recycled polyester (71%) on the external part. This technical combination of materials and its construction with a double frontage allows you to face different sports activities in total comfort, but is at the same time also versatile and makes you feel comfortable in more relaxing situations.

MERINO WOOL & TENCEL®

We're using a responsibly sourced Merino Wool & Tencel® Jersey for our t-shirts and on the inner side of other products, where this fabric's natural feel and performance provide additional comfort. This material gives several advantages to those who exercise in the mountains. The mix of these fibers (Merino Wool & Tencel®) creates a perfect microclimate: It is comfortable on the skin, natural and light. It dries quickly and does not retain the unpleasant odors typical of the synthetic materials. By incorporating this material successfully in our products, we achieved our goal of providing maximum natural comfort next to the skin and in the body areas that need more protection.

TAILOR-IT-YOURSELF

Personalize your perfect fit

Women are all different, with their own and specific beautiful shapes. That’s why we decided to invest a lot of energy in finding a perfect fit for women that are active in the mountains. Our dream is not just to find the right fit, but literally to adapt our products to women’s unique selves and individual bodies. “Tailor-it-yourself” is the explanation of this concept. With the Lisa Tailor Legging personalize the length of your legging. It is easy and quick: you just need a pair of scissors and cut them at your favourite length following the ultrasonic lines at the bottom of the trousers. This is possible thanks to its fabric that avoids making any threads, giving a “clean-cut” effect. Perfectly designed for you!

SUSTAINABILITY CRITERIA EXPLANATION

Audited Factory (social standards)

LaMunt is a member of Fair Wear Foundation, a non-profit organisation which specialises in the improvement of working conditions in the textile industry. We choose factories that are serious about cooperating to this end, by signing our Code of Conduct and providing high standards for the workers. In countries where the risks for workers are higher, we carry out audits with expert third-party organizations, and agree on improvement plans where it is needed. Products marked with “x” are sewn in a factory located in lower-risk countries or monitored through audits and corrective measure plans.

HIGG Committed Factory

HIGG is a standard in the textile industry for assessing a factory’s environmental and social sustainability performance. By committing to Higg, suppliers are transparent about their policies, processes and emissions, and can help to identify problems and take measures for the protection of factory workers and the environment.

Chemical Compliance Tested

LaMunt products are covered by the Oberalp Chemical Policy, an internal process to control the presence and use of chemical substances in our products and production processes. The policy is based on compliance with our Restricted Substances List (RSL), containing all chemicals that are excluded from or limited in all our products. Our suppliers must commit to fulfilling our Chemical Policy and most of the fabrics and trims we use are certified to external standards (like for example bluesign®). However, we want to make sure that our materials are safe and compliant, so we also conduct additional extensive testing with third-party laboratories.

PFC-free DWR

Many technical products in the market use Fluorocarbons (PFCs), chemicals that make them resistant to water, grease and stains. Eventhough they are highly performant, in high concentrations, PFCs have been linked to negative health effects in humans and wildlife. LaMunt water-repellent products use alternative chemicals that do not contain PFCs. (DWR = durable water resistant)

Recycled Material

Materials with recycled content have a lower environmental impact. LaMunt products marked with “x” are made with more than 50% recycled content overall, including fabrics and filling. We use recycled cashmere, nylon and polyester.

Natural Materials

LaMunt products marked with “x” are made with at least 50% natural fibers on the main fabric, lining or filling. We use cashmere to fill our warmer jackets, a blend of Merino Wool & Tencel® for next to skin t-shirts and inserts and a double-face technical mix of wool and recycled polyester for our thermals.

Animal Welfare Guranteed

LaMunt products with merino wool and other virgin materials of animal origin are guaranteed to come from farms where animals are treated with care. Our wool comes exclusively from non-mulesed sheep. Some of the farms we source from are certified to the Responsible Wool Standard (RWS).

Lamunt

A community of passionate, active women

We take the approach “by women for women” to heart. From the first workshops with women at the inception of the brand idea, it did evolve to founding the LaMunt Crew. We invited to our Crew a diverse group of women to participate to give feedback and feedback on our products and brand development. These women come from different backgrounds but are all united by their passion for the mountains and mountain sports. We appreciate their approach to the mountains, their insights, ideas, and creativity. We encourage them to contribute in a critical and proactive way. The LaMunt Crew is our ‘north star’ that we are seeking to find inspiration for better solutions to make sure women feel good and at ease while being active in the mountains.

An amazing journey

It was a real adventure to create the imagery for our LaMunt Book – getting all the outfits ready, having our first model shootings and creating a summer mood in the Dolomites with a wild potpourri of weather changes in April. But we are huge believers in not being tied down and bringing our dream to life through hard work. We hope you love it as much as we do!
